

DEVELOPMENT COMMITTEE.

Join patrons of Red Bull Theater in rallying support for the company.

The Development Committee helps raise awareness, deepen community contacts, plan benefits, and other tasks vital to the company's health and future growth.

Development Committee Members are one or more of the following:

- A person who can spread the word about Red Bull Theater's activities to new audiences and prospective donors.
- A person who can volunteer time to help the company with various parties, mailings, seeking in-kind donations, etc.
- A person who has a special skill or special set of contacts that can help the company, such as marketing, fundraising, grant research, accounting, printing services, etc.

Development Committee Members are selected through a simple vetting process that includes meeting with the current committee leadership.

Development Committee expectations include:

- Attendance at meetings (2-3 per year).
- Participation in the planning and execution of galas, fundraising or audience-building initiatives, and benefits.
- Cultivation of new supporters of Red Bull Theater by attending events and performances, and bringing friends and colleagues.

If you would like to discuss involvement with this powerful cadre of Red Bull Theater supporters, please email me directly at jesse@redbulltheater.com, and I would be happy to discuss it further with you.
